ALADIN/HIRLAM WORKSHOP 7-10 April
ALADIN/HIRLAM WORKSHOP – 7-10 April 2008 – Brussels – BELGIUM- Once

Once upon a time in the nineties ... I mean, nineteen hundred, a few world famous scientists and some less so at the time but who would soon achieve paramount fame gathered together with a mind to better forecast the weather. Once ...

These worthy warriors are close to chasing rainbows.

Tomorrow is only today for yesterday
Yesterday,
All my troubles seemed so far away

One offspring of this mind boggling activity was the birth of the

ALADIN NEWSLETTER

*Since issue 28, I crowned myself « Editor » of the NEWSLETTER and I would like to thank all those who contribute to it, but sometimes I despair, as some of you are leaving me in the lurch.

to leave in an uncomfortable or desperate situation; desert in time of trouble*

(pozostawiać własnemu losowi/nechat na holičkách/cserbenhagy /a lása baltá /nechat' na suchu/ pustiti na cedilu /deixar alguém em apuros /başı derdiyken yalnız bırakmak/يخَذُل في ساعة المِحْن)

What could be the reasons ?

Once...

*Couldn't you spare a few hours to enlighten the scientific community with a few lines worthy of a temporary posterity.
As you will see from the next two slides, it seems that chapter «Research & Developments» especially has undergone some drastic surgery.
I suggest to merge Oper & R&D together and put much more emphasis on articles which, by the way, are of a very good quality.
I propose to call this new chapter « last ORD », but suggestions are most welcome.*

ORD: operation, research, development*
